Don't Stop Tobacco.

HOW TO CURE YOURSELF WHILE USING IT.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco to an inveterate user becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Baco-Curo" is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872, without a failure. It is purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking "Baco-Curo." It will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to cure permanently any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent. interest. "Baco-Curo" is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will, power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from a cocaine as the day you took your first hew or smoke. Cured By Baco-Curo and gained thirty pounds.

From hundreds of testimonials, the originals of which are on file and open to inspection, the following is presented.

Clayton, Nevada Co., Ark., Jan. 28, '95.
Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., La. Cross, Wis.—Gentlemen: For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "Baco-Curo." "The Indian Tobacco Antidote." "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and conditions. Yours respectfully, P. H. MARBURY.

A GINGER.
One of the best ways of judging of and advertisement's pulling power is to put yourself in the place of the prospective purchaser and gauge the effect of the advertisement upon yourself. It produces in your mind a sort of desire to try the goods—a degree of curiosity about them, whether by the manner of talking about them in the advertisement—then it is pretty fair to conclude that the advertisement ought to bring results, and vice versa. NO HELP TO THOSE MORTGAGED

Free Silver a Hardship, Not a Relief, to Most of Them.

People owning their homes and having mortgages upon them should not be misled into thinking that a free silver victory in November would be of assistance to them in meeting their mortgages. A little examination will show that on the average it will bring hardship instead of relief. This would be true, leaving out of consideration all circumstances affecting wages and incomes and confining the argument simply to a bare discussion of the mortgage itself.

The great majority of mortgages especially the smaller ones on dwellings, houses, are written for three or five years, and of this class the greater number for the lesser period, while many run for a year or two. During the last few years a great many of these mortgages have contained gold clauses. It is obvious that no one having such a mortgage on his house would be helped in the slightest by free silver. It is equally plain that, on the contrary, were gold at a premium it would be harder than ever to make payment.

It might also be remembered that there are always, especially during hard times, a large number of mortgages, especially on small houses, that are overdue, and are being carried along by the mortgagee.

Bearing these facts in mind it seems safe to assume that the average life of mortgages on this class of property in this city and its suburbs does not exceed one year.

For free silver to be of advantage to the mortgagee money must be more plentiful and more easily obtained within that time than it is to-day. Is there any reason to believe it would be?

Even without a special session of congress, called as soon as possible to pass a free silver law, such a law could not reasonably be looked for within that period, much less an inflation of the currency, so as to give relief to debtors. In the meantime what would be the situation?

The crisis in financial affairs would follow immediately upon the success of free silver at the polls. Following the withdrawal of gold there would be a sharp contraction of the money in circulation, and instead of more money with which to meet indebtedness, there would be less.

Under the unsettled condition of affairs lenders would be more unwilling than ever to loan, and, as an inevitable result, payments would have to be defaulted.

There is still another point. In the very great majority of cases mortgages do not willingly foreclose. They want their money and interest rather than the property. This is especially true of the savings and cooperative banks. As a result they often carry mortgages that are due until such a time as the owner can meet them. But if they saw that they would receive at some future time an amount less than its value in gold, and only such a payment could be of benefit to the borrower, they would demand a settlement at once, and, if that was not forthcoming, they would foreclose. And foreclosure in a panic means the wiping out of equities.

In the above statement no allowance is made for loss of earning power on the part of the home owner. It is assumed, for the sake of argument, that he will have as much money as he has now. Even on such a showing free silver to the great majority would not be a help but an injury.—Boston Herald.

Big Prices for Farmers' Products.

The Chautauque News, of Sherman, N. Y., contains in its latest number an advertisement which we copy free of charge:

WAR PRICES.

In order to assist those who believe in the "white metal" I will pay the following prices for live stock and produce delivered at Sherman:

Steads weighing 1,000 pounds or over, live 10 cents per pound
Hedders weighing 10 cents per pound
Fat and heavy 10 cents per pound
Sheep, fat and heavy 10 cents per pound
Lamb, fat and heavy 10 cents per pound
Veal, fawn and fat 10 cents per pound
Pigs all 10 cents per pound
Best Holstein milk cows 10 cents per head
C. I. creamery butter 10 cents per pound
Fine factory cheese 10 cents per pound
These dollars contain 100 per cent pure silver than the United States dollar.

Those who deliver stock in droves should bring an extra horse to draw home their money.

Dated August 1. A. B. SHELDON.
Mr. Sheldon is able to do what he promises to do. He is giving the farmers of Chautauque the benefit of the inflated prices which the advocates of a 50 cent dollar desire and is doing it without asking the United States government to become a repudiator and a swindler.

Purchasing Power of Cheap Money.

Major Sanders, of Louisville, who served in the Confederate army, recalls that in January, 1865, he tried to buy a handkerchief in Meridian, Miss., but found he could not afford it, the price (in Confederate money) having been $500, and as a compromise he bought a paper collar for $125. With gentlemen to whom collars and handkerchiefs are superfluous such object lessons from the past will have very little weight. The marvel is that the inflation craze should have got such a hold upon the people of the south, where the bitter experience with Confederate money should have lasted for the present generation at least.—Philadelphia Record.

Conditions Prior to 1896.

Some of the free coinage men still say that all they want is to "restore the conditions that existed prior to 1873." In 1873 the total world's production of silver was $1,000,000,000 ounces and the silver in a dollar was worth $1.04 in gold. Last year the world's product of silver was 165,000,000 ounces and the silver in a dollar was worth only 50 7-10 cents. Will the silver miners restore the production of 1873 as the first step toward "restoring the conditions?"

Rheumatism

Is a blood disease and only a blood remedy can cure it. So many people make the mistake of taking remedies which at best are only tonics and cannot possibly reach their trouble. Mr. Asa Smith, Greenville, Indiana, says: "For years I have suffered with Sciatic Rheumatism, which the best physicians were unable to relieve. I took many patent medicines but they did not seem to reach my trouble. I gradually grew worse until I was unable to take my food or handle myself in any way; I was absolutely helpless. Three bottles of S.S.S. relieved me so that I was soon able to move my right arm; before long I could walk across the room, and when I had finished one dozen bottles was cured completely and am as well as ever. I now weigh 170."

A Real Blood Remedy.

S.S.S. cures Scrofula, Cancer, Eczema, and any form of blood troubles. If you have a blood disease, take a blood medicine—S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) is exclusively for the blood and is recommended for nothing else. It forces out the poison matter permanently. CHAIRMAN SOMERS, of the Popo-lar Committee, says he has not heard of a man changing from silver to gold in this campaign, but knows a large number who have changed from gold to silver. How ignorant that man Somers must be. He don't know anything. If he will come down here in Ohio county we can show him a few and teach him how to tell the truth.

Stop Thief!

A rascally fellow is wheat. Here our Free Silver Boy Orator has been weeping over 50 cent wheat when we had a 70 cent dollar, and he promised by the beard of an anarchist to uplift wheat if the villains of Wall Street, the blood-suckers of the banks, would quit stabbing silver in the back.

Well wheat has become tired of waiting on Wall Street and the blood-suckers. So it jumped up to 70 cents.

It is a thievish proceeding. Wheat has stolen the great argument of the free silverite, and has gone beyond the power of even Bryan's special express train to arrest it.

Wheat is winning. Silver is falling. Bryan is still talking and chasing butterflies. McKinley is expecting patiently and with dignity the mandate of the Nation. Wheat cares not for silver. The nation cares not for Bryan and his madness. Wheat obeys the law of supply and demand.
Bryan condemns all law. The nation will have none of him. Wheat refuses his false doctrines. The Nation will answer his mad theories by the voice of its suffrages the 3d of November.

Poor Bryan! He has been wounded in the house of his friend, and that friend, even wheat, has run away with the Free Silver Boy Orator's stock in trade. Wheat has come over to McKinley. [Leader.

Gen. Sam E. Hill will speak in Hartford Saturday, Oct. 24. Gen.
Hill was for a number of years a resident of Hartford, and his many friends throughout the county will be glad of an opportunity to hear him in this campaign. Especially will the old soldiers, of which he is one, will be glad. We bespeak for him a large crowd.

lect; J. K. Taylor, Echols; H. H.
Davis, McHenry; F. D. Sanderfur,

Hon. J. S. R. Wedding Republican Elector for Fourth District will close his campaign at Elizabethtown the 31st. The Republicans of Hardin county are going to give him a grand ovation. Mr. Wedding stands in the front of Kentucky's best orators and we predict that the occasion will be the grandest of the campaign.

Judge S. D. Morgan, of Rosine, a strong free silverite had an appointment to speak at Hopewell, Tuesday night, and after he was through with his silver harangue, an enthusiastic McKinley man took a rising vote and only found two Bryan men in the crowd, the balance were for McKinley. You will find it that way everywhere. The people will not be led off after false Gods.

THE RALLY.

The Free Silverites Meet and Make the Welkin Ring.

After much advertising by various methods in the way to catch the eye of the unsuspecting voters, the Hartford bosses of the Democratic party had their crowd here Wednesday.
They had it advertised in every club in the county and one would think from the noise they made that there were between 100,000 and 200,000 people in attendance. There were 128 in the parade from Beaver Dam.

The bosses who have been negotiating for the Populist party came to an agreement by which they should let a Populist introduce the speaker and the Hon. J. P. Miller arose to say his piece, the Democratic bosses were struck with shame, some hung their heads, others turned their backs, and altogether it was a sad scene to them to witness the death of their party and to buckle on new armor. Mr. Miller rehearsed his old speech, and sat down without telling the people whether he was for Bryan, McKinley or Watson, but left the impression that he wanted the Government to make some money and distribute it free throughout the land.
He introduced Mr. Williams who proceeded to tell the people what he knew, but after a vain attempt of about 3 hours to convince the farmers that they wanted 53 cent dollars, and arraying class against class, he closed.

The speaker's very first dash out of the box was to "cuss" Cleveland and Carliste and condemn everything that was Democratic. He "cussed" every Trust in the world but the Sugar Trust and the Silver Trust. He lives in Mississippi and of course he could not say anything about the Sugar Trust. He said all who went to see McKinley were dead heads and bums, which he knew was a lie. Said there was no Trust in the world for Bryan, when he ought to have known that the Silver Trust was for him and it represents $616,000,000. Of course he was not on the witness stand nor was he teaching a Sunday School class and he did not tell the truth.
Said he was a cotton planter and was for free silver because it would help him (get rich while he could pay his laborers in a cheap dollar.) In the next breath he cussed the bankers and railroad men for wanting to maintain the gold standard. He said whenever you see a little village banker you will find a man who thinks he knows all about finance; he must have thought the Hartford banks were against him, but they are both for free silver.

The speech was very tiresome and many left before it was much more than half over. It is safe to say that their party was not strengthened any by Wednesday's proceedings, but on the other hand they lost. The speech was a disappointment to the crowd that had gathered.

GOV. BRADLEY'S SPEECH.

A Large Crowd Greeted
Kentucky's Governor
last Friday.

Gov. W. O. Bradley spoke to a large crowd at the Hartford Fair Grounds last Friday. The speaker was introduced by Hon. C. M. Barnett, Chairman of the State Central Committee, in an appropriate little speech, after which the Governor took up the leading questions, the Tariff and Money question and made both so plain that the "wayfaring man, though a fool," could understand that this country needs a protective tariff and a sound staple currency to their welfare, and without them we could not be a successful nation. He showed how prices were high for all the products of the farm under a protective tariff and how they were lowered under a free trade bill.
He took up the question of the difference between the people of free silver countries and those of much more prosperous countries.

Altogether Gov. Bradley made a good speech and has been of much good to the cause which he espouses.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1896.

AGAINST BRYAN.

Business Mind of the Country for the Party of Law and Order.

The Two Classes of the Voting Population and the Ballot Each Will Cast—The Class to Which Bryan Appeals.

As this campaign progresses it is more and more evident that the election of Mr. Bryan depends upon the separation of the voting population into two great classes which may be designated by the two words, order and disorder.

In the one class are the men who have property or who have plans by which they expect to achieve property or means. In the other class are the men who are constantly appealing, are gathered about the men who are actuated more by hate and prejudice than by judgment and who are determined to use the ballot in this election to create as much confusion as possible, hoping that a general upheaval will come out better off than they went in.

When a great country like this reaches a point where one-half of the people are willing to see a general upheaval and to take their chances on the result, the situation is very serious. In such a crisis party lines become as straws. As the one class more and more exhibits its recklessness, the other more and more throws off its party ties and puts itself into the breach to check disorder and to restore confidence and security. The man who has property and who is working with his mind and his plans expecting to achieve something for his old age, sees in this general upheaval the destruction of values and the baffling of plans.

The security of a people in their property and their plans depends on the security of the government. The danger to a government lies in the restlessness of the masses; that is, that part of the people who do not work with mind or with plan, but only with their hands in an uncertain, uncontinuous, undirected way, with no goal to reach, no definite thing to achieve, except to live as easy as possible, and to have as much license with their liberty as they can get out of the laws of the country.

Mr. Bryan, realizing that the last three years of depression have brought many men into a reckless state of mind, appeals to this reckless mind in propositions that are catchy with the reckless voter, and as these catchy theories arouse the reckless enthusiasm of the one class and the decided opposition of the other, he cheers on the conflict with the boldness of a man leading a host of plunderers against a castle where booty is to be secured.

In one of his speeches in Ohio he said: "They say we are anarchists, but the man who got his property honestly need not be afraid." Mr. Bryan's friends defend him in this statement by saying that he did not mean it as an invitation to plunder. But how are we to judge of what a man means except by what he says? And how are we to know the interpretation put upon this statement except by the demonstrations of approval from those who were reckless enough to applaud it? Does Mr. Bryan mean that when he gets into power a process of law will be inaugurated which will redistribute the property, taking away from those who have not achieved honestly? And who is to be the judge whence this process of redistribution commences, between honestly and dishonestly acquired property? In the same breath with which he utters this dangerous threat he denounces railroads, banks and all centralized business forces because they oppose his election. Does he mean that legislation will be inaugurated that will seize these great business interests and take their property, on the theory that they have dishonestly acquired them?

What does it mean when the entire business, financial and industrial interests of the country are arrayed against this bold young orator and his plans? He says that it means that the business men of the country are dishonest; that they want to plunder the people. But the people, the thinking people, know that the business mind of this country is against Mr. Bryan because it is afraid of him and because its business judgment condemns him and his plans as unsafe.

Here is this business mind, this great engine of thought that has evolved all the plans, that has built up New York, Chicago and all the great centers of commerce, that has built all the great railroad systems and developed the great northwest, that has founded all the industries where there is employment for labor and market for produce, here it is in all its mind power, to create and to direct, controlling the world with its achievement in the last quarter of a century, and this young man denounces it as dishonest and as an enemy of the people. He says it must be destroyed; that its power must be taken away by law and violence, and that the industries, the material life of the country, must be taken out of the control of this great mind force and put into the control of a reckless, unthinking mass of men who have no ability to direct or hold together that which has been created, even if they desired to do so.

The governmental situation always controls the business and industrial situation. When the government is in safe hands then this great thought power, believing in its government, in the security and stability which it guarantees, breathes into industry that vitalizing and moving power which puts every wheel in motion.

The people who think out business plans and on whom the country is dependent for leadership and guiding force are afraid of him and the plans which he proposes. When a plausible talker, or any set of plausible talkers, can make the people believe that the judgment and mind power which directs their industries is their enemy.

EX-SECRETARY SCHURZ.

Shows Clearly That Free Silver Would Ruin Industry.

Hon. Carl Schurz, ex-secretary of the interior, addressed an immense audience in Central Music hall, Chicago, on September 15. Speaking of a possible free-silver victory, he said:

Consider what the immediate consequences would be if Mr. Bryan were elected president, with a congress to match. Mr. Bryan would, of course, be anxious to have his free-coinage law enacted, but that could not be, even if he called an extra session of congress, until some time in April or May, five or six months after the day of election. But as soon as on the 4th of November the result of the election was announced everybody would know that the parity of gold and silver would not be maintained.

It having been made certain by Mr. Bryan's election that the parity of gold and silver would not be maintained, there would be a rush upon the treasury for the gold in it by the persons holding greenbacks entitled to redemption, and the gold reserve would be exhausted in a twinkling. Gold will instantly disappear from circulation, to be hoarded or exported. Why will it disappear? Because every sensible person when making a payment will prefer to make it in the less valuable dollar and hold the more valuable gold dollar back for more profitable use. Gold will therefore quickly rise to a premium, and we shall be on the silver basis long before a free-coinage law can be enacted. Our daily transactions in buying and selling, in paying and receiving wages, will no longer be carried on upon the basis of gold dollar and silver cents, but of the silver dollar worth 50 cents or thereabout, for the government will no longer hold up the silver dollar to the value of the gold dollar. That is what the silver basis means. You can study in Mexico how it works.

The quantity of gold circulating from circulation will amount to about $600,000,000, the disappearance of which will make a tremendous hole in the volume of our currency. But, says the silver man, there will be free silver coinage to fill the gap promptly with coined silver or silver certificates. Oh, no, my fellow sufferers. The disappearance of gold will happen promptly after the election of Mr. Bryan, and there will not possibly be any free coinage of silver for at least six months, and it will require a great many more months to fill a gap of $600,000,000.

What will happen meanwhile? The St. Louis Globe-Democrat reports Mr. Bryan to have said some time ago: "I think it is—meaning the victory of the free-coinage movement—will cause a panic. But the country is in a deplorable condition, and it will take extreme measures to restore it to a condition of prosperity." Whereupon the St. Louis paper pointedly remarks: "Evidently Mr. Bryan has heard of the doctor who always throws his patient into bed before administering any curative medicine."

Just so.

How, then, would Mr. Bryan's "it" work? The sudden disappearance of our gold from circulation would produce the most stringent contraction of the currency on record. Businessmen who own money and at the same time have money due by them would be forced to collect that money by every means at their disposal. Nobody will be inclined to lend out money except upon extraordinary security. The banks will naturally consider it their duty to keep themselves out of it, and therefore to call in loans and to restrict their discounts and advances to business men with the utmost caution. Business establishments, manufacturers, mercantile houses, unable to get the money for meeting their obligations, will by the hundreds succumb to their embarrassments and tumble down like a row of bricks. Others will cautiously restrict their operations to the narrowest possible limit, and wage-earners by the thousands will lose their employment and be turned into the street.

How can I foretell these things with so much assurance? Because they have already cast their shadows before. Do you remember the crisis of 1893, when the silver basis was in sight? And now the same apprehension of a possibility of Mr. Bryan's election and of the consequent slipping of our country upon the silver basis has already caused untold millions of our securities to be thrown upon the market in Europe as well as here.

Scored of business orders are already recalled, a large number of manufacturing establishments have already stopped or restricted their operations, enterprise is already discouraged and nearly paralyzed, many works of public utility by industrial or railroad companies have already been ordered off. Thousands of workmen are already thrown out of employment, gold is already being hoarded, capital is already being sent out of the country to be invested in Europe for safety.

And why all this? Not as the silver man fondly pretends, because the existing gold standard has made money scarce, for capital is lying idle in hoards, scores upon scores of millions, fairly yearning for safe employment. No. Ask those concerned why all this happens, and with one voice they will tell you it is because they apprehend serious danger to every dollar ventured out through the change of our standard of value in prospect, through the debasement of our currency threatened by the free-silver coinage movement. And if these are the effects of a mere apprehension of a possibility, what would be the effect of the event itself?

From Eminent Biometrists. Gold is recognized as the universal standard of value. It is the measure that must be used. It is the measure by which your wealth must be tested. The wealth of the United States is tested by the same rule. It has been and always will be the touchstone of measurement, and when you depart from that and try to figure up any other measure which the world does not recognize you get into confusion.—Senator William M. Stewart.

HE GROWS IN STRENGTH.

As the campaign progresses Gov. McKinley's speeches become greater, more forceful and more eloquent. Saturday he made several addresses, each of which aroused the enthusiasm of his auditors. He touched with a master's hand the great questions which engross public attention and revealed a grasp of the subjects he handled which showed great range of mind and profound knowledge of the problems of the day.

Mr. McKinley is not a scold. He knows of what he talks. He has studied the subjects he undertakes to discuss. He is grounded in the principles of finance. He is a trained and careful statesman—competent, as he shows by his acts and by his speech, to deal with the most complicated questions that can arise.

He is stronger to-day than he was when he was nominated, while Mr. Bryan was stronger on the day the representatives of riot and misrule took him for their chosen leader than he has been at any time since.

Gov. McKinley has stood every needed test to which he has been subjected. He does not fail. He does not fall off.

Measured by the standard to which presidential candidates should comply, he is found to be worthy of trust and confidence.—Albany Journal.

BRYAN CHALLENGED.

The Democratic Candidate Has Made a Bold Statement He Can't Prove.

The Louisville Courier-Journal has issued a challenge to Mr. Bryan. It takes its stand on the proposition that it is impossible to make the market price of silver bullion $1.29. Mr. Bryan having said in New York that free coinage would accomplish this financial miracle, the Louisville Courier-Journal throws down the gauntlet to him in this way:

1. If Mr. Bryan, or any other human being, will sell this country, which it had the free coinage of both silver and gold at the rate of sixteen to one, or any other ratio, over and over again, the bullion value of both metals to the coinage value and keep them together, thus securing and maintaining a constant circulation of both by side, and preventing one from expelling the other, the Courier-Journal will withdraw all opposition to the free coinage of silver.

2. If Mr. Bryan, or any other human being, will sell this country, which it had the free coinage of both gold and silver at any ratio, was ever able to bring the value of both metals to the coinage value and keep them together, thus securing and maintaining their circulation as money side by side, and preventing one from expelling the other, the Courier-Journal will withdraw all opposition to the free coinage of silver.

The stake here offered is well worth playing for. Will the populist candidate take up the glove? He is not likely to do so for salient reasons. In the first place there is nothing in human experience that gives him a foothold. Silver has always been a valuable commodity. There is inexhaustible quantities of it, mined and unmined, in all parts of the civilized world. The cost of producing it alone governs its price. That cost must be reduced by every new invention for mining and refining it. It is known to exist in thousands and thousands of localities where nothing has been done to bring it forth because at its market worth the cost could not be defrayed. To coin it at a fictitious value of $1.29 an ounce would afford an enormous profit, at least temporarily, for in the end the money would be invested at a fixed value it must find its true level. But the promoters of this revolutionary campaign would make hay while the sun shone. Before the crash to national credit came they have secured the life, from the purchase of a penny paper to the investment of a million, would have to pay them a handsome profit. It would not take them long to get their venality. It might be six months or it might be a presidential term, but it would suffice. They know, and Mr. Bryan knows, that this country would not remain an hour beyond the latter period on a silver basis. But the minds of the United States would work fast enough to make them whole. All they want is one chance with the tools of destruction in their hands.—Sydney (N. Y.) Standard.

WANTED—SEVERAL FAITHFUL men or women to travel for responsible established house in Kentucky. Salary $750, payable $15 weekly and expenses. Position permanent. Reference. Enclosed self-addressed stamped envelope. The National Star Building, Chicago, 5-16.

To be dragged down to an early grave by the neglect of a trivial ailment is not an enviable fate, and yet thousands submit to this fate without a struggle. People cannot learn too soon that coughs and colds and affections of the throat and chest cannot be safely neglected. The most fatal disease known to physicians have their inception in these disorders. It is easy to cure a cold. It is impossible to cure consumption. One follows the other as surely as night follows day. Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey is a sure cure for coughs, colds, throat and chest troubles. Druggists sell it. For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Miss Margaret Nell, PIANO TEACHER.

Mrs. Smith Woodbridge, of Kimble, Ky., was so afflicted with her throat for over two years that she could not speak above a whisper. After she used the first bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey she could talk as well as ever, and the case is such a wonderful cure that her neighbors come in to see for themselves and are astonished to hear her talk.
